

Gospel of the Noise

It is nothing. It is everything. It is anything in between. It is a vehicle for your own existence on the road to evolution. Proceed with caution, for this road is bumpy. Use your ears as a guide and your mind as a beacon. View it not as a band, but an idea. As unique an idea, as your perceptions will allow. Use the Noise as inspiration. Become yourself. Evolve.

As individual members of this band, we are pawns that have become enslaved by its vision. It is not perfect and never will be. But, perfection is an illusion that it uses to control us. However, we are obedient and humble in our roles. We abide, since humility is our road to freedom.

The Noise unites us into one. Hear its music. Feel the energy. Seek your own truth. Grow numb from the onslaught of temptation along your journey. Embrace the inevitable resistance. Have the courage to respect it. Understand that this resistance is strong yet superficial. Taste its bittersweet flavor. Chew it up until it weakens and begins to dissolve. Feel the presence diminish and swallow to confirm its demise. Use this as providence in every aspect of your lives. We ask that you take this mission and accept your responsibility.

It is nothing that you do not want it to be. It is everything that your consciousness allows.

We, in the name of the Noise, act as your servants. Do not only use us. But be us. Then, inspire us.
